Speaker	Prof. Ing. Klaus Karpf MSc, BEd University of Agricultural and Environmental Education Mag. Michael Holzwieser University of Agricultural and Environmental Education
Content	Mag. Michael Holzwieser and Klaus Karpf BEd. MSc. encourage the seminar participants to be creative actors in their field of activity in times of change and climate change. This is an important concern of green pedagogy, which concretises education for sustainable development according to the principles of constructivist didactics. Green Pedagogy provides decision-making tools so that everyone realises that they can contribute to a more sustainable development in the world. Through very well-chosen examples, sometimes also through irritation, consternation is created, which motivates the participants to actively participate <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Presentation of the didactic concept of Green Pedagogy by means of an example with interaction....• Discussions• derive own actions for teaching
